

THE ROYAL COLLEGE
OF SURGEONS OF
EDINBURGH

Barts and The London
School of Medicine and Dentistry

www.smd.qmul.ac.uk

Missing teeth: A multidisciplinary approach to achieving optimal outcomes

Principles of diagnosis, treatment planning and multi-disciplinary management
[RCSEd Accredited]

12th & 13th March 2018

ROYAL LONDON DENTAL HOSPITAL
Dental Institute, Whitechapel, London

Professor Ama Johal, Consultant Orthodontist

Dr Shakeel Shahdad, Consultant Restorative Dentistry

Professor Ferranti Wong, Consultant Paediatric Dentistry

THE ROYAL COLLEGE
OF SURGEONS OF
EDINBURGH

 Barts and The London
School of Medicine and Dentistry

www.smd.qmul.ac.uk

Day 1 is aimed at specialist trainees, Post-CCSTs & Specialists in Orthodontics, Restorative and Paediatric dentistry.

Day 2 is specifically aimed at Post-CCSTs, Year 3-5 Restorative Trainees & Specialists. The course will be delivered by a highly experienced and established team of consultants specialising in the management of congenital and acquired tooth loss. The Team has been established for 15 years and present nationally and internationally.

Course content to include:

- Fundamentals of aetiology, assessment, diagnosis & treatment planning
- Importance of achieving optimal aesthetics and function
- The importance of a multi-disciplinary team approach
- Principles of orthodontic mechano-therapy
- Role of pre-treatment and in-treatment restorations
- Principles of restorative treatment options and timing
- The patient – journey with a step-by-step management approach
- Case-based discussions

	Trainee (StR -1 day)	FTTA trainee (2-days)	Non trainee 2-day
Course fee	£65	£130	£360

Closing date for application 2nd March 2018 – Limited places available
Course fee is inclusive of course notes as well as materials used in the practical session.
Morning and afternoon refreshments and lunch are provided.

Register for the course here: <http://bit.ly/2jYOK91>

For any queries please contact Penny Muller
Barts and The London School of Medicine and Dentistry
Email: p.muller@qmul.ac.uk Tel: +44 (0)20 7882 8156